ARTIST RELEASE FORM

Permission for Use of Artwork and Literary Materials

I am a student in an Arts in Corrections class given by the William James Association (WJA). I understand that I own any work I produce in the class completely, as it automatically became mine under U.S. Copyright Law (Title 17, United States Code), as soon as I created it.

Without giving up any ownership of my work, I give WJA permission to use my work to publicize the program and to include it as part of the permanent archive collection, which is open to the public. This includes the publication of my work, in written form or digital form, on the WJA website, Prison Arts Program Instagram, and Facebook. It also includes the use of my work in exhibitions approved by the WJA Administration/designee.

In exchange for my permission here, WJA agrees:

1. It will not make more than 500 copies of any book, publication, or material including my work.
2. It will use any publication or media only to promote the WJA, its prison arts classes, and to encourage people to support the WJA prison art programs.
3. WJA will make a good faith effort to provide me with copies of any publications that include my work.
4. My work may be included in approved exhibitions.
5. My work will become a permanent part of the WJA/PAP Archive (which will be accessible to the public).

Opt-Out of Online Archive

At any time, I may submit a written request to have my work removed from the WJA online public archive. Written requests should be mailed to: William James Association, P.O. Box 1632, Santa Cruz, CA 95061

I have read, understand, and agree to this agreement.
